M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL SLATED TO PASS

RELIEF MEASURE IS EXPECTED TO REACH
HOUSE IN FEW DAYS

Curtis-Crisp Bill Is Not Expected To Hurt
Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen bill will be passed by the senate this week and delivered into the hands of a friendly house for final enactment into law before the adjournment of congress, it was revealed today by an International-News Service poll.

The greatest obstacle to this program, but one which the farm relief bill apparently will hurdle without trouble, will be the Curtis-Crisp measure, which the administration hopes to substitute for the bill approved by national farm organizations. Leaders of the farm bloc predicted rejection of the substitute and the International-News Service poll indicated their prophecy was correct. It has been intimated, however, that President Coolidge will veto the bill when it reaches him.

The poll showed fifty senators favoring the McNary-Haugen bill, including twenty-six Republicans, twenty-three Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite. This number would insure passage of the bill under any circumstances. The opposition included thirty-two certain votes while eighty senators were classed as "doubtful," and five were absent.

Those favoring the McNary-Haugen bill were: Total 50. Republican: Cameron, Capper, Curtis, Deneen, Frazier, Gooding, Harrell, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Washington, LaFollette, McMaster, McNary, Means, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Oddie, Pine, Robinson, Indiana; Sackett, Schall, Stanfield, Stewart and Watson (26).

Democrats: Ashurst, Bratton, Broussard, Caraway, Copeland, Dill, Ferris, Harris, Hawes, Hefflin, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, McKelver, Mayfield, Neely, Overman, Ransdell, Robinson, of Arkansas, Sheppard, Simmons, Smith, Tyson and Wheeler. (23).

Farmer-Laborite: Shipstead. (1).

The senators listed as "doubtful" but who may vote for the measure, include: Couzens, Fletcher, Goff, Harrison, Leuroot, Stepien, Trammell and Walsh, Montana.

To insure winning these fifty votes and some of the senators now classed as "doubtful" the bill must be amended. One of the chief provisions, to be added, with the consent of farm bloc leaders, will be the inclusion of tobacco as one of the crops benefitting under the $250,000,000 revolving fund. If this is done, every indication pointed to passage of the bill by the senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—By mutual consent of opposing counsel the big scene in the government's celebrated tax case in which it seeks to recover $30,000,000 additional taxes from former minority stockholders of the Ford Motor Co., today was postponed until tomorrow.

This scene will mark the appearance of David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue, and his deputy, C. R. Nash, for examination. These two government officials were subpoenaed by the board of tax appeals at the request of John W. Davis and Joseph E. Davies, chief counsel for the protestors, when they declined to voluntarily appear on the witness stand.

It was indicated today that Senator James Couzens probably would not be called as a witness in the case.

AUTOIST KIDNAPPED AND THEN ROBBED

DAYTON, O., Feb. 8.—The next time C. M. McGuire, Columbus, wants directions in a strange city, he probably will not ask a stranger.

After visiting friends here last night, McGuire asked two strangers to direct him to another section of the town. They got into his automobile and at the point of a gun forced him to drive to Centerville, about ten miles south of here.

The men tied McGuire to a fence, and left with his automobile and $36. They gave him $2. A passing motorist later discovered him and brought him to Dayton.

CHILD IS KILLED

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 8.—The eighth fatality of the year in Hamilton County was recorded here today with the death of Gale Orem, 5, who was struck by an automobile while returning from school yesterday.

CHINESE INVADERS HALTED

Suicide Epidemic and Crime Wave in Colleges Brings Demand For Inquiry

By HARGIS EARLYWINE

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927 CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—College heads alarmed by a wave of suicides and crime among students, are considering a national conference of higher educators to investigate the situation and seek causes and possible cures.

Simultaneously, religious leaders are thinking of an independent investigation, with a view of determining whether failure of college authorities to make religious training a vital part of university education, has anything to do with the suicides and crime.

The latest incident to add fuel to the flames is the unsuccessful attempt of a girl student in the University of South Dakota to rob a bank. Marion Meyers, 19, needed $24 to pay tuition fees, and hit upon a desperate way to get it. She broke into a Vermillion, S. D., bank, was scared away by a watchman as she was about to drill the safe, and then was caught when she returned to get her hat.

No less than nine college students in the United States are known to have committed suicide in the last six weeks.

Some of the college authorities in Northwestern University and the University of Chicago, large local institutions, are inclined to blame the power of suggestion. One psychologist is of the opinion the Meyers girl would not have attempted to rob the Vermillion bank if she had not read of a similar attempt made recently by Rebecca Rogers, honor student in a Texas institution. The Rogers girl resorted to a hold-up rather than safe-cracking, and managed to get away with several thousand dollars. She was not careful in covering her tracks and was soon caught. Now she is awaiting trial in Austin.

Similarly, it is held that newspaper accounts of the suicide of various college students is responsible for the epidemic of self-destruction among undergraduates. "Such unusual occurrences get prominent publicity and are strongly impressed upon minds ready to accept any sort of radical suggestion," it is explained. "It probably is true that the same wave of stories has caused persons who are not in college to commit suicide. But in such cases, the act wouldn't get wide publicity, and so we don't know how widespread the effect of this thing has been."

Prominent churchmen, lending little credence to the "power of suggestion" explanation, are certain that "loose thinking" on the campuses is responsible. They aver that university professors, instead of impressing religious influence upon their students, actually encourage them in atheism.

It is probable that a national conference of church and university leaders will be held shortly to discuss the matter.

COLONY OFFICIALS HOWEVER PREPARED FOR ANY EMERGENCY

Nationalists Hope To Sign British Agreement

SHANGHAI, Feb. 8.—While news from the war front in the vicinity of Hangchow today indicated that General Sun Chuan-fang had turned the scale of defeat against the invading Cantonese armies, thus apparently staving off the prospects of immediate fighting in the vicinity of Shanghai, officials of the international settlement continued to hold themselves prepared for any emergency.

"We are hoping for the best, but we are preparing for the worst," said American Consul General Clarence E. Gauss. He added that he was not worrying about the situation at Shanghai.

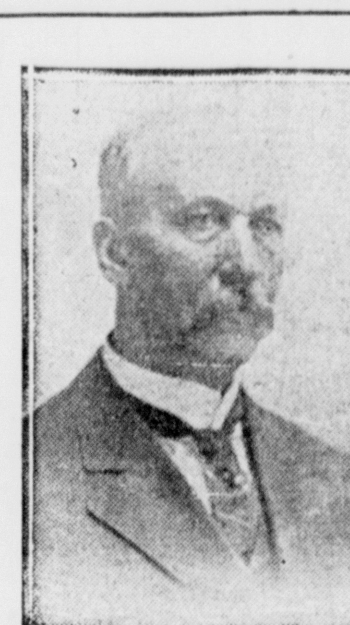

Reports from Nanking, Sun's headquarters, indicated that Sun Chuan-fang's answer to the recent United States proposal to create Shanghai a neutral zone will be to point out that Nationalists are the aggressors in the present campaign, and that therefore he has been compelled to resist the southern advance toward Shanghai.

Dispatches from Hankow said the Nationalists were optimistic regarding the prospects of signing a Sino-British agreement, following the resumption of negotiations between Eugene Chen, Nationalist foreign minister, and Owen O'Malley, British charge d'affaires.

Demonstrations at Hankow yesterday were orderly.

The Cantonese armies are reported now to be nearing the border of Kiangsi province and it is estimated that their position is about 100 miles from Shanghai, which leads observers here to anticipate the failure of the present thrust against Shanghai.

KING GEORGE TELLS PARLIAMENT PLANS
CONCERNING CHINA

Permanent Peace Is Desired By Britain
Message Says

LONDON, Feb. 8.—King George today prorogued parliament with one of the shortest speeches on record for a like occasion.

Chief interest in the King's speech centered on his remarks concerning the Chinese situation. After declaring that he had felt it necessary to despatch armed forces to the Far East to protect British residents in China, as a result of the recent rioting at Hankow and the anti-British agitation throughout China, the King said it was the desire of the British government and people to place their future relations with China on a basis of friendship and good will. He declared for a policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of China.

"The continuous civil war in China and the anti-foreign, and particularly the anti-British agitation, with which it has been accompanied, have caused me grave anxiety," King George said.

"As a consequence of what happened recently at Hankow and at other places, my government felt it necessary to despatch to the Far East a sufficient force to protect my British and Indian subjects against mob violence and armed attack."

"But I earnestly desire a peaceful settlement of the difficulties which have arisen, and my government has caused proposals to be made to the Chinese authorities which should convince the public opinion in China and throughout the world that it is the desire of the British people to remove all real grievances, to renew our treaties on an equitable basis and to place our future relations with the Chinese people on a footing of friendship and good will."

"My government will maintain our traditional policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of China."

SOCIETY WILL MEET IN COLUMBUS SOON

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 8.—More than 1,000 delegates from various corners of the earth will gather here February 16-17 for the sixth annual convention of the International Society for Crippled Children, it was announced here today.

Foremost among those to be in attendance were Edgar F. Allen, Elyria, O., founder of the society; Arthur S. Fitzgerald, Windsor, Ont.; Edward R. Kelsey, Toledo, O.; Paul H. King, Detroit; William B. Robinson, Pittsburgh; H. L. Seeley, Waverly, N. Y.; and H. E. Van De Walker, Ypsilanti, Mich.

GOVERNOR SUBMITS COMMITTEE REPORT FOR APPROPRIATIONS

Special Probers Cut Requests But Recommend Increases Over Budget Of Finance Department—Now Up To Legislature

A budget of $849,995 for the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home in Xenia for the eighteen months' appropriation period beginning July 1 is recommended by the special committee appointed by Governor Vic Donahey to make a survey of the institution and recommend plans to meet the needs of the Home.

The report was filed with the state legislature Monday night by Governor Donahey, who declared, in transmitting the document and budget, that he concurred in the recommendations of the committee and asked the legislature to give "favorable consideration to the report."

Recommending appropriations aggregating $849,955, which is approximately $90,000 more than recommended by Finance Director William E. Baker, the committee reported that the Home had been subjected to "long-continued neglect" and that present facilities are inadequate. Declaring that "indications of an early increase in the demands for admittance to the Home are apparent," the committee declared "it is imperative that preparations be made to meet these certain future demands."

The committee's recommendations included a request for an appropriation of $288,440 for the fiscal period from July 1, next, to December 31, 1928 for salaries, wages, medical and educational supplies, building and general plant materials, equipment, traveling expense and additions and betterments.

The committee pointed out that "some recognition was given the increased needs of the Home when the budget for the next two years was presented but that the amounts allowed by Finance Director Baker are not sufficient."

The committee met at the institution January 9 and made an exhaustive study of its needs as reflected in the budget for the next fiscal period. The committee stated it found that "very essential items amounting to $325,440 had been reduced to $198,840 by the state finance department and that it is the opinion of this committee that the minimum amount with which the Home could operate for the next two years would be $288,440."

Dr. Butler's prediction was made last night in an address at the Riverside Republican Club, of the ninth assembly district.

Dr. Butler was a guest at the White House last week. He disclaimed any direct information from Washington, however, asserting that he voiced only his own opinion.

Dr. Butler said: "I am gratified to be granted that when President Coolidge thinks the right time has come he will make a statement of his unwillingness to have his name considered in connection with the Republican presidential nomination of 1928."

"One of the president's strongest characteristics is his common sense, and common sense dictates this course."

Dr. Butler, who sought nomination in 1920 and is being supported by "wet" New York Republicans for the honor next year, cited as among his reasons for thinking President Coolidge will eliminate himself the "possibility that the third-term issue may be raised in 1928," he continued.

The Republican party is going to have a hard enough time in 1928 without inviting certain defeat through injecting the third term issue."

The issues that will have to be met in 1928, Dr. Butler told the Republicans, are: prohibition, the relief of the farmer and foreign policy.

REPORTS CONFLICT REGARDING REVOLT

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, Feb. 8.—Conflicting reports have been received today as to the result of the fighting at Chinandega.

One report, from Diaz forces, claims that the conservatives have again taken possession of the city and that the Liberals have been routed with heavy losses.

From Liberal sources, however, come reports that the liberals are still giving battle to the conservatives within Chinandega.

Heavy damage is reported to have been done to the city, and several entire squares, are reported to have been ruined by fire which broke out during the engagement.

The casualties on both sides are reported to have been heavy, with the dead estimated at approximately 100.

UPRISING AGAINST PORTUGAL DICTATOR

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The position in Portugal is obscure today, following last night's reports of a general uprising there against the dictatorship of General Carmona.

The last report states that the rebels, soldiers and police had joined with the rebels and that a cruiser had thrown shells on land batteries.

Today it was evident that a strict censorship had been laid down, for cable officials said that while their lines were clear they had received nothing from Lisbon since five o'clock yesterday afternoon. All attempts to communicate have been fruitless.

The revolt which was led by Colonel Mendes Reis, gave promise of being successful, according to latest reports.

COUNSEL CONFERS IN CONSPIRACY CASE

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner's opening address to the jury in the second trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, was preceded today by a conference of opposing counsel concerning stipulations in regard to the uncontroverted evidence. This move is being made in an effort to make the trial shorter than the first one, which ended in a jury disagreement.

WHAT to WEAR and How to WEAR IT

By LUCY CLAIRE
Favorite Fashion Adviser
of the Smart Set

Today I am going to tell you about the wardrobe for the three-year-olds—that age when mud pies and sand boxes seem to furnish the most fascinating diversions. Consequently, my verdict is lots and lots of little dresses, simple, washable and practical ones. And gingham is the only material I know of that combines these essential requisites for it will stand even the most severe boiling without the loss of a shade in color. And then, too, it may be found in so many attractive patterns as well as plain weaves.

Those very companionable and identical twins I have shown in the upper right-hand sketch—a boy and girl of three years—illustrate a mode which I have observed is so generally followed in England. That is, to dress the younger children in the family alike and in the case of twins, it is such a pleasing custom to follow during the early years.

Both outfits seem to have been made from the same pattern with the addition of knickers and a slightly shortened blouse for the little boy. They are made of plain green gingham with narrow bands of green and white checked gingham for trimming.

The two youngsters shown below are wearing adorable little dresses—so smart and attractive in appearance, yet serviceable enough to withstand the rigors of the liveliest romping about.

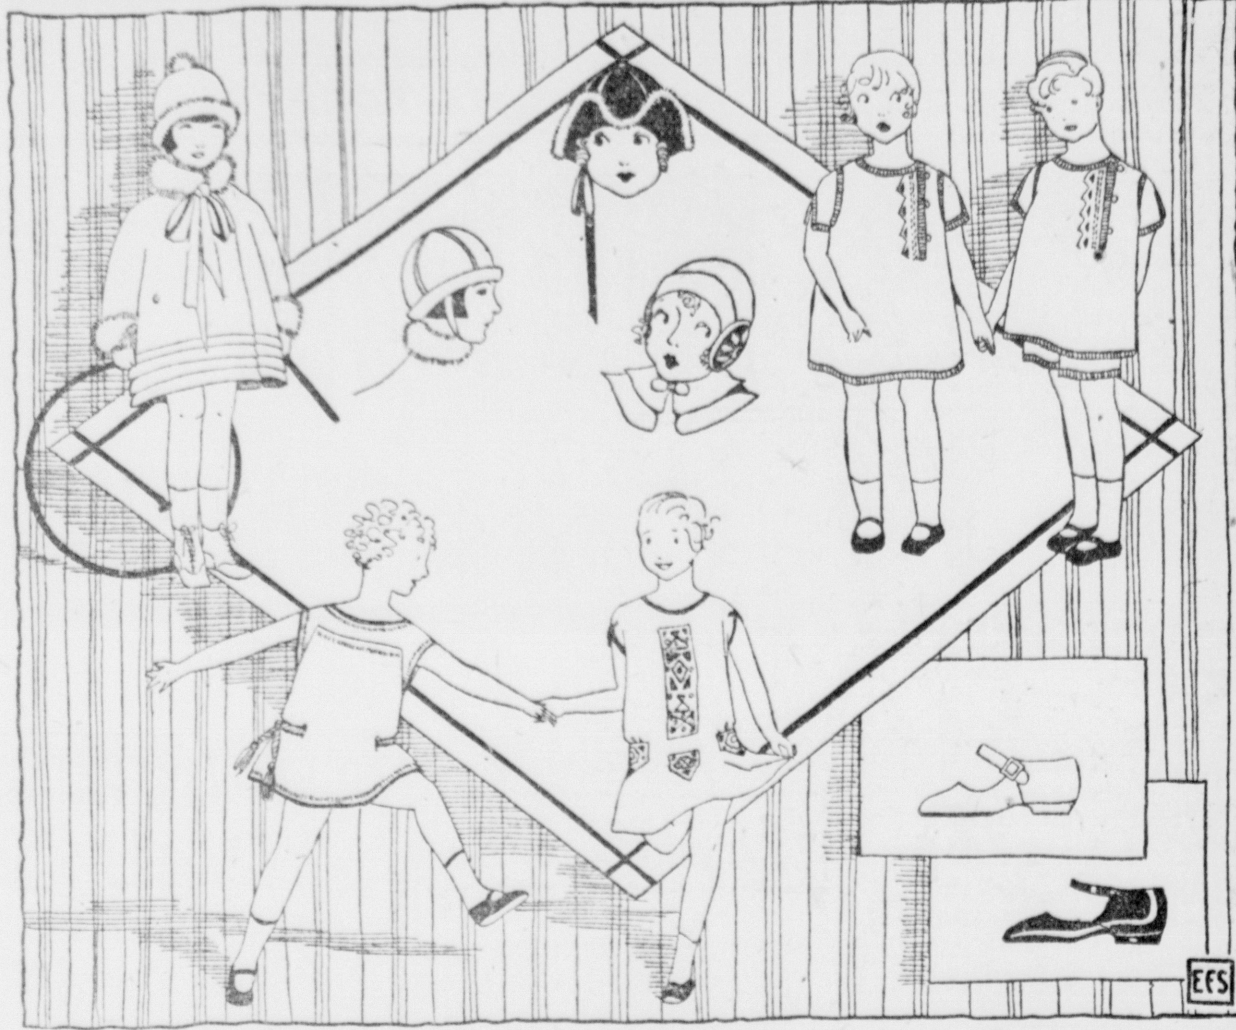

The little one-piece dress at the left with its set-in yoke which extends into short sleeves, is made of pink gingham and is bound all over with loose overcasting stitches worked in black. The dress beside this is yellow gingham with a narrow panel in both front and back and pockets of plaid gingham in contrasting colors.

You will notice that the utmost simplicity dominates the patterns—there is no fancy trimming to be torn at play or tattered in laundering; the tubfast and sunfast gingham precludes the disadvantage of faded out colors and the result is what you see here—fresh and colorful little frocks that are outgrown but never outworn.

The youngster at the left above is wearing a coat of red woolen material with a cap to match and her idea of ensemble correctness is carried out by the narrow bands of gray squirrel trimming on each.

In closing, I want to add just a word about shoes. The tiny, flat-heeled strap slippers, which I have shown, are most generally worn but the material of which they are made is an essential consideration. If you want to guard against future foot-ills, then avoid patent leather in children's shoes for their feet become over-heated in playing and the stiff non-porous patent leather is apt to cause blisters and chafing. Select soft supple kidskin which permits the feet to breathe by virtue of its many pores.

Tomorrow, I am going to tell you about clothes for the six-year-old age.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 8.—Gilbert Simmonds, 24, recently released here on bond in connection with a robbery indictment, faced another charge of robbery today in connection with the theft of a $1,500 payroll of the Globe Folding Box Co. here last Friday. The bookkeeper, who was the holdup victim, has identified Simmonds as one of the alleged robbers.

No Fear Now of Offense!

So Sweet and Clean Inside!
No Offensive Vapors
From the Pores

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered.

It is no trick to "clean out the bowels." Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew. The old-fashioned way was "salts." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter. Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more."

And what comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warm weather! Try a cascara tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Is Most Reasonable In Price But Produces Results That Would Justify a Much Higher Price.

Take for instance a flock of 100 hens. Three hundred pounds of Blatchford's Fill-the-Basket Egg Mash should feed them for thirty days. If as a result this flock laid only one more egg a day it would justify paying fifty cents more per 100 pound bag for Blatchford's Fill-the-Basket Egg Mash than for any other feed, and under anything like favorable conditions the increase in eggs will be not one but several more per day. Try it and see. Be fair to yourself and Blatchford's Fill-the-Basket Egg Mash by making the trial period at least ninety days.

One pound will feed one laying hen ten days—

DISTRICT MISSIONARY OFFICER ADDRESSES SOCIETY

Stressing the importance and the wonderful field of service of the Woman's Home Missionary Society from the orphanage in Alaska to the hospitals and schools in the South and all over the broad land of America, Mrs. C. E. Bice, president of the Dayton District of the society, addressed the Second Auxiliary of the First M. E. Church, at the covered dish supper meeting in the basement of the church, Monday night.

Mrs. Bice spoke particularly of the plans for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the society or the "Golden Jubilee" four years hence. The goal of the society is for a half-million dollars and a half-million members.

At present, the membership is 460,000 and the national society hopes to reach the half-million mark in four years, which means the society must make an increase of five per cent each year. If each member makes a "birthday" donation of fifty cents each year, the half-million dollar mark will be reached, Mrs. Bice pointed out. Her talk was a splendid inspiration to the society.

Miss Lorena Paulin was the group leader and Mrs. C. L. Spencer led devotions. A social time was enjoyed by the forty-five present after Mrs. Bice's talk.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. A. Parrett, chairman; Mrs. George I. Graham, Miss Amy St. John, Mrs. Roy Spahr, Miss Jennie Thomas, Miss Martha Crawford, Mrs. Will Smith and Mrs. Alice Downing.

SURPRISE PARTY

A group of friends and relatives surprised Mrs. Rhoda Smith, Saturday, at her home in Jasper, honoring her seventy-seventh birthday. Dinner was served at noon to the following: Mrs. Frank Fere, Miss Eleanor Perre, Springfield, Mrs. Myrtle Haylett, Dayton; Mrs. Cecil Stines, Columbus; Mrs. George King, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Woolley, Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, and son, Dick, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Woolley and son, Walter, of Jasper.

MEETING AND DINNER

Ladies Aid Society, First Lutheran Church, will meet in the Sunday school room at 3 o'clock, instead of 2 Wednesday afternoon. After the business meeting, the families and friends are invited to a covered dish dinner at 6 o'clock.

Aldora Chapter, No. 262, O. E. S., will hold the regular meeting, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at Masonic Temple.

Xenia friends of Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Pasadena, Cal., formerly Miss Margaret Gilliland and sister of Mrs. Elbert R. Babb, this city, will be sorry to learn that she broke her right arm, severely injured her knee and received other painful injuries when she fell down a flight of stairs at her home last week. Mrs. Moore was attempting to reach her little daughter's room when she plunged down the dark stairs.

It was announced Tuesday that Dr. A. T. Robertson's address at the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening, will be flooded in time to permit those attending to patronize the second showing of the pictures "The Eve of the Revolution," and "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence" at the Bijou Theater under auspices of the D. A. R.

MODERN APPLICATIONS OF CHRIST TEACHINGS SUBJECT OF SPEAKER

"Christ states His promise, that He is going to present a righteousness which would exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees. Each statement that He makes, sets up a higher standard than the Old Testament and a higher standard than many church people care to attain today," Dr. A. T. Robertson, Louisville, Ky., told a fair-sized audience at First Presbyterian Church, Monday night in his third address on "The Sermon on the Mount and Modern Life."

Using the "sub-head" "Who is the God Man?" Dr. Robertson answered, "Let the Christ tell you." The speaker then proceeded to expound, Matthew 5: 27-48. He pointed out that Christ discussed six very pertinent questions, which are modern in application. "First, moral and spiritual surgery,—if they offend thee pluck it out; second, divorce, Christ allows only one ground for divorce and that is adultery, immorality. Christ allows only one possible re-marriage of the innocent party; third, profanity. 'For swear not thyself at all,' Christ teaches against any form of swearing, pious or profane, not by heaven or your head, or by George, or Jerusalem, or the altar or anything. 'Let your yes, yes, or your no, no' be sufficient. Christ did not say anything against oaths in court, He took one himself before the High Priest.

"Fourth, retaliation. 'Ye have heard it said in old time, eye for eye and tooth for tooth, but I say unto you.' The speaker shows that Christ was quoting the Old Testament law of restricted retaliation. 'If it had not been for this law their would have been no limit to retaliation. Christ is not opposed to punishment, but to private, lawless, unlimited, punishment or vengeance. Fight the devil but do not fight like the devil. Fight the devil and evil like Jesus fought. Fifth, enemies: 'Love your enemies.' Do so as you must have righteousness and goodness exceeding the Pharisees.' The sixth and last point was 'To be as perfect as God is perfect.' With all of the other suggestions, Christ left the idea of the 'God man' with an unlimited idealism and perfection to attain." Dr. Robertson said, "Not the perfection of God, but the attainment of and aiming toward the perfect of God. The final attainment coming when we are ushered into heaven."

Dr. Robertson will speak Tuesday evening on "Who is the Pious Man?" Matthew 6: 1-18. Dr. V. F. Brown presided Monday evening and the Rev. D. A. Sellers will preside Tuesday evening. All the meetings are being held at the Presbyterian Church, Market and King Sts. The public is invited. Union services mark the meetings.

CORONER PROBE S BIRTHS TO IDENTIFY MURDERED INFANT

Coroner Frank M. Chambliss is continuing his investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of a baby girl, seven-and-one-half-months' old, whose body was found in a gallon tin oyster bucket on the J. R. Murdock farm, six miles from Xenia, Saturday afternoon.

In an attempt to find a clew the coroner is scanning birth records, but so far without result. The absence of clews lessens the probability that identification may be completed.

The baby girl, white, was unclothed when found and had been dead three or four days in the opinion of Coroner Chambliss. Death was due to a fractured skull, he said. Other than a spot on the forehead where a blow had been inflicted with a blunt instrument, there were no marks on the body. The bucket was found in a thick et by two boys while fishing, 100 feet from the banks of Massies Creek, off the Tarbox Road. The lid was lying nearby.

Coroner Chambliss has abandoned a theory that the bucket may have been placed in the creek up stream and washed ashore when the waters returned to their banks following recent heavy rains. The body was in an upright position, and less than one-quarter of an inch of water covered the bottom of the bucket. A preliminary examination by Coroner Chambliss before burial was made in Woodland Cemetery Monday failed to disclose any water in the lungs.

He also announced he was uncertain whether an inquest into the death would be held since it would not materially aid in the investigation, but he firmly believes a murder was committed.

FORMER MAYOR W. F. TRADER IS DEAD; PRACTICED LAW HERE

Wilbur F. Trader, 80, former mayor of Xenia for six years, at one time prosecuting attorney of Greene County for two terms, and one of the founders of the Greene County Law Library Association, died at his home, 821 N. King St., at 9:20 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mr. Trader had been in failing health for several years since retiring from active law practice five years ago, but his condition did not reach the critical stage until last Thursday when he became confined to bed. Immediate cause of death was arterio sclerosis.

He lapsed into unconsciousness Friday night but regained consciousness for a few minutes Saturday night, long enough to recognize members of the family.

Mr. Trader was born in Xenia, December 27, 1847, the son of Alfred and Lucinda (Robinson) Trader and was one of a family of nine children. His father was Greene County treasurer for 12 consecutive years and later filled the position of cashier of the Xenia Branch Bank.

Mr. Trader lived in Xenia practically his entire life except for a few years when he was engaged in the coal business in Dayton and Zanesville. He conducted a book store in this city for a time and later took up the study of law under Judge E. H. Munger. He acquired his education in the public schools.

He was admitted to the bar in 1877 and engaged in practice many years, during which time he was active in public affairs. He was elected mayor of Xenia in 1880. Four years later he was again chosen to that office and was once more elected in 1888. In 1888 he was elected prosecuting attorney and served for two terms.

He was one of the charter members and helped to establish the Greene County Law Library Association, serving as secretary and treasurer. Mr. Trader was also a charter member of Trinity M. E. Church and a member of the official board for several years.

In his political views Mr. Trader has always been Republican and for many years was prominent in this party's councils. He was at one time a member of both the state and county Republican Central Committee.

Mr. Trader was united in marriage to Miss Katherine E. Short, daughter of A. A. Short, Franklin County physician, October 25, 1883. He was the last surviving member of his family. Surviving is his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Carl O. Nybladh, teacher in the Yellow Springs schools.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 o'clock, Thursday afternoon.

RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, PAIN

"Heat" Relieves Instantly

With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heat" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body. Instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. Besides, "Heat" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heat" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heat" is a clean, pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only sixty cents at any drug store. —Adv.

PROFESSOR ZAVITZ ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB, BOY SCOUTS

Prof. Edwin Zavitz, of the Antioch School, Yellow Springs, who is in charge of a boys' camp at Camp Lake, Minnesota, each summer, with Prof. Slutz, Dayton, addressed Xenia Rotary Club and forty Boy Scouts, guests of the club, at the Elks' Club, Tuesday noon.

The "Scout meeting" was in observance of "Scout week," commemorating the seventeenth anniversary of Scout work.

Prof. Zavitz showed eighty slides, depicting scenes on Camp Lake and activities at the camp and entertainingly described the sports there. His talk followed a chicken dinner served by Jacob Kany.

Songs by club members and "yells" by the Scouts completed the program. Parents of Boy Scouts are notified that more autos are needed to convey the Scouts to the Court of Honor, at the N. C. R. School, Dayton, Friday night. The party will meet at The Criterion at 6:15 p. m., Friday.

YOUTHS RETURNED HERE FACE CHARGE

Arrested Monday at Washington C. H. by Deputy Sheriff George Sugden and returned to Xenia two youths registering as Homer Griffith, 20, and Clarence Lemons, 21, both of Washington C. H. pleaded not guilty to petit larceny before J. E. Jones, justice of the peace, Monday.

Their hearing dates are set for February 10 and both were committed to the County Jail in default of $300 bond. They were arrested for the alleged theft of a set of four coils from a Ford car owned by a Jamestown man, Saturday night.

BIBLE THOUGHT

A SURE GUIDE.—Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and he shall bring it to pass. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him. Psalm 37: 5, 7.

MUST STRETCH THE IMAGINATION

It was but a few years ago that congressional appropriations and the money transactions of the United States treasury inspired the observation that the American people must learn to "think in hundreds of millions." But no sooner had they learned to think in hundreds of millions than the American people had to learn all over again to think in billions.

On a single day recently financial transactions of the federal treasury involved more than $1,000,000,000. And this vast transfer of funds took place without causing the slightest disturbance in the money market.

Nevertheless, the incident stands out as striking evidence of the vast scale on which the business of the banks and of the government treasury is now conducted. It is another proof of the almost unlimited wealth of this wealthiest country of all time.

This country has become accustomed to "thinking in billions" by easy stages. The tremendous sums at the disposal of the government by the Liberty Loans and war taxes, amounts which the shrewdest financiers would have declared impossible to raise, taught Americans more than they had known about their illimitable financial resources and made it easy for them mentally to pass from millions to billions.

Today the United States treasury takes a billion-dollar day as a matter of course and the public fails to see any news in the fact.

THE POWER OF PUBLICITY

No more striking illustrations of the power of advertising and publicity can be cited than the telephone company. Here is a business which the individual who boasts about his "conservative business judgment" would say nothing to advertise, "if anybody wants telephone service, they know where to get it."

The telephone company has demonstrated the fallacy of such an opinion. Largely as the result of consistently advertising in the American press over a long period of years, it has popularized telephone service in the United States as in no other nation in the world. The people would never use the telephone like they do today, if they had not been continuously "sold" to the telephone idea.

There are narrow-minded individuals who claim that the cost of publicity is not a legitimate expense of public service corporations. Publicity which encourages the widest use of an article is the most potent influence to reduce the expense of that article to the consuming public. Without publicity, the demand for an article is small and the cost of production is high. With proper publicity, the demand for an article becomes universal and the cost of production drops to a minimum.

This is why Americans enjoy the best public utility service in the world—Such companies are consistent users of advertising space. The telephone has proved this fact beyond question of a doubt.

MUSIC MAKES WORK EASIER

It used to be "music with your meals"; now it is "music with your work." Through a set of circumstances far removed from the ultimate results, the Newark Works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company began playing phonograph records broadcast through loud speakers in some of its factory departments. The innovation became so popular, and proved such an aid to the employees, that practically every department now has its phonograph.

It is always humiliating to a man to discover that he doesn't know as much as his wife.

The value of a dollar is almost nothing, but the value you place upon your efforts to earn a dollar is almost everything.

You'll Have to Admit It Looks Suspicious

Keeping HEALTHY
by Dr. A. F. Currier

VICTIMS OF WOOD ALCOHOL

We have heard a great deal of loose talk recently, from men in high places, senators, college presidents and professors and a great many others, about the iniquity of the government in selling poisoned alcohol.

The government has even been called a murderer for selling such alcohol as if it were responsible for the use for drinking purposes of that which is so poisonous and is known to be poisonous.

That such poisons are taken by various people sometimes with suicidal intent; sometimes because those who take them are lacking in sense and reason, does not necessarily brand the maker or the seller of the poison as having murderous intent.

Very often the poisons are very useful in the arts, in agriculture, etc. For instance, arsenic, Paris green, various preparations of lead and mercury.

Wood alcohol is useful for various purposes in the arts. If it is diverted from its proper use by somebody who wishes to get drunk and can find nothing that will accomplish this purpose more effectually than wood alcohol, does that make the maker or the seller of it a murderer, provided that is that he does not know the person buying it is about to use it feloniously?

If there is any murderer in the transaction it is that vile miscreant, the bootlegger, who knows he is selling murderous material and who for the sake of a few dirty dollars is willing to risk the chance that his wares will not kill or blind or paralyze.

I do not know of any instance in recent history in which politicians and professors—I do not call them statesmen or scholars—have stooped quite so low and shown to what lengths prejudice and intolerance will carry them, as in this controversy about prohibition, and more particularly in this latest phase of it in which death has resulted in so many cases from imbibing wood alcohol and its products.

I once knew, many years ago, a druggist in one of the large hospitals in New York, something of a degenerate and fond of getting drunk. But the peculiar part of it was that instead of taking decent liquor which he could have had at any time and in any quantity, he deliberately chose to drink wood alcohol of the present day was that it didn't take very long for him to finish his career.

I wonder if these drinkers of wood alcohol of the present day do not take it with a sort of bravado and because they expect to get some kind of a thrill from it which in their unbalanced state of mind seems worth the risk.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
C. G. J. Have been troubled a long time with sore places on the skin at the sides of the toes. The trouble starts with severe itching, then a water fluid appears, then the skin peels and there is great pain. Have tried several remedies but without benefit. 2. There is a breaking out on my body which itches terribly. What do you advise?

Answer—1. Take a tablespoonful of castor oil every night. 2. Apply carbolic acid of zinc ointment every night before retiring.

I and now feel like that all the time and am unable to go anywhere on account of this feeling. My mind seems to be gone; will it make me insane? Please advise me.

Answer—I should imagine that you are brooding over this matter and perhaps are overworked. Would it not be well to take a few weeks rest, get a great deal of sleep and try and forget this matter?

Ask Dr. Currier that medical question that has been puzzling you. Confine your letter to fifty words and send stamped, addressed envelope, for reply. He cannot, of course, make individual diagnoses, and he reserves the right to decide as to the propriety of queries.

SOPHIE IRENE LOEB says

FOOLISH PRIDE THAT WRECKS LIVES

A young woman engaged to a man whom she has known for three years, quarreled with him and immediately returned all his engagements.

"Although it is now nearly nine months that I have not been going with him, still I miss him and think of him so much that it is hard to attend to my work."

When I go out with other young men, I sometimes enjoy myself with them, until I get home and think of my old sweetheart.

I am a young girl of refinement and independence, and I do not wish to write to tell anyone that I still love him.

"How could we come together without him knowing that I want to go with him again? He visits a friend of mine once in a while, at whose home I met him once, but I did not want any one to know that I still love him. My pride will not let me tell anyone that I still love him."

"If you can help me out in this matter I will appreciate it very much."

Many letters like this one reach me. The hearts that are broken and the lives that are wrecked by false and foolish pride are many. When will we realize that you can't pretend one thing and feel another and "get away with it."

When will young women understand that turning a cold shoulder on one they love only begets coldness and misunderstanding.

Does this young woman think that the man in the case does not know that her coldness is only feigned, especially since, for so long a period before, they meant so much to each other?

The very attitude of acting one thing and feeling another is enough to make a man stop and consider if it be not possible that she would do the same thing when the knot was tied, and make him unhappy as a consequence.

It is all folly. Love is too big a thing to throw away in order to satisfy pretended pride. There is only one way. It is the broad one. When two people have arrived at the point of being engaged, it seems that there is nothing in the nature of a quarrel that they can not discuss freely and settle to their satisfaction or "agree to disagree."

of disinterest. On the other hand, the young man in this case may have changed his mind.

If so, it is well. The girl has been saved much future misery. Yet, it may be that her very manner may have made him hesitate to seek reconciliation in the belief that he is unwelcome.

Whoever make the initial move—it should be made—the young woman can let him know that she desires to see him. She can surely ascertain whether love has died or not. Certainly between friends or acquaintances the wise woman will always wait and let the man be the pursuer.

But where happiness of the two persons is involved and a man and woman have gone so far as to pledge their troth, it is certainly a great risk to take the chance of future inestimable sorrow.

It is better to know the truth, and get it over, than to suffer in silence.

Many Minds SIGNIFICANT SAYINGS OF THE DAY

"It sickens a red-blooded old man to see a publicity hunting old man like Browning chasing a young girl like 'Peaches'."

"Bunny Browning is a fool. But that 'Peaches' she's not such a fool. Neither of them is overburdened with common sense."—William A. "Billy" Sunday, evangelist.

"What he will do next, who can say? Perhaps he will go completely out—put. I have known him as an architect, a Communist, a Socialist, a Republican Monarchist and at present an Imperialist. I think Fascism has come to stay, and that it will outlast Mussolini."—Ricciotti Garibaldi, grandson of the great Italian liberator.

"It is inevitable, of course, that some wrongs will be committed and some injuries done innocent people in the bringing about of final results. But I set every indication on the part of the Chinese at the present time to protect the lives and property of foreigners to the utmost of their ability. The only thing which, in my judgment, may change that program will be just such things as the sending of fleets and armies to China with a view of crushing this spirit through force."—U. S. Senator William E. Borah.

KELLYGRAMS by FRED C. KELLY

ADVANTAGES OF STAYING AT HOME

FRED KELLY This friend has a cute little wife who is a good cook and she seemed to have a rare gift for providing exactly what a guest would like. By some occultish power she knew that I prefer cranberries not done into a jelly but with each berry showing separately, and with almost limitless juice. I don't know when I have had a sirloin steak cooked so delectably—almost a crisp shell on the outside but the inside red and juicy as the interior of a watermelon. Then there were candied sweet potatoes, well done and cut thin, but with syrup so thick that the slices had almost to be pried apart. My hostess had even spent all forenoon shucking hickory nuts that I might have a hickory nut cake—the world's foremost variety of cake. All this mind you, for a person she had never seen before. How good it all was! Yet this housewife was apologetic. She seemed to think that because I had been living in hotels where they have high-salaried chefs and infinite variety of items on the menu, a simple home-cooked meal might seem like roughing it. Well, those who conduct hotels should be experts in giving good food and good service. Why isn't a hotel meal better, and why isn't all phases of hotel service better than you get in a home?

Here, I think, is the answer: Because the motives back of a home and of a hotel are exactly opposite. A hotel is run to give as little as possible for the money, but in your own home, or even in a friend's home where you are a guest, the chief aim is to please you regardless of cost.

Isn't the hotel man's fault that he must give you as little as he can for as much as he dares charge you? He is compelled to make a profit or he couldn't serve you at all.

The charming thing about a properly conducted home is that it is the only institution in the world run to make its occupants happy rather than to make money.

MAKING MODERN MENUS

There are many ways in which eggs may be prepared so that they may serve as a main luncheon dish. Sometimes, in combination with fish or vegetables they may compose the family dinner when a particularly heavy one is not required.

EGGS WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Melt one tablespoon of butter in a saucepan. Blend with it a tablespoon of flour, one-fourth teaspoon of salt and a dash of paprika. Stir two minutes. Then add a half cup of cold milk, stir and cook until the boiling point is reached. Add one cup of cooked peas and pour all upon a hot platter. Around this mixture place eggs which have been slowly fried in butter and around the entire dish place a tomato sauce made as follows: Chop an onion and carrot to make a tablespoon of each. Cook these with one spray of parsley and one small piece of bay leaf in three tablespoons of butter until well browned. Add four tablespoons of flour, one-half teaspoon of salt and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper. Cook until all is browned then add a cup of strained tomatoes and a half cup of brown meat stock and stir until boiling. Strain the sauce before using.

EGGS, SOUTHERN STYLE

Brown half an onion in two tablespoons of butter. Add a pint can of tomatoes, a small bottle of stuffed olives, chopped, and a half green pepper chopped fine. Put the mixture into a casserole and cook for an hour in a slow oven. By this time the mixture should be thick and if there is still too much moisture add stale bread crumbs. Add six hard boiled eggs cut in quarters, cover the whole with a half cup of buttered bread crumbs and bake until nicely browned.

PRUNE DELIGHT

Two dozen sweetened stewed prunes, one-half cup of walnut meats, one cup of heavy cream, one-half cup of shredded coconut, one-half cup of Maraschino cherries. Remove the stones from the prunes and fill the cavities with nuts. Place in tall sherbert glasses and pour two or three tablespoons of prune juice over each. Top each serving with whipped cream, sprinkle with coconut and garnish with cherries.

CABBAGE SALAD

Take one-half a small cabbage, shred it finely and add one-half cup of salted peanuts. Moisten well with mayonnaise and serve very cold on lettuce leaves. Simple to make and will prove very popular with the family.

How to Achieve Beauty

STIMULATION FOR BEAUTY

What Stimulation Can Do For You
I want to devote this department for a week to talks about stimulation and its importance to health and beauty.

Vibration, science now believes, is the nearest definition we have of the nature of the life force. Everything in nature, not only the cells of the body, but those of trees, plants, of flowers, down to the last particles of rocks and stones and soil, has its rate and character of vibration.

In human beings this rate of vibration may be normal, or in a few instances sub-normal (when we will have some form of super-excellence) but it is far more likely to be below normal. The majority of us vibrate on a far lower plane than we should.

And here is where stimulation comes in and why it is so essential. For vibration follows the curve of stimulation. If the latter is normal, vibration will be normal, if low, vibration will be low. But increase the stimulation and the vibration will be increased and the infinitesimal cells of the body will commence working at a corresponding rate.

Stimulation produces "pep," vitality, it is the force that keys the body up. The dictionary defines a "stimulant" as that which produces a transient increase of vital energy. But such so-called transient increase of vital energy, if repeated often enough, becomes virtually permanent "through" habit. One can acquire the habit of stimulation or increased energy just like any other habit, and in fact the majority of people have the habit of bad stimulation, or mis-directed force, that is, stimulation working against the fundamental principles of nature—stimulation at such red heat and rapidity as to burn the body out like a fuse.

It is just as easy to acquire the habit of good stimulation, if you will start in time, and what a difference it will make in the way you feel and the way you look. As I am going to talk to you only on the right kind of stimulation this week, let us forget for the time being and the sake of argument, that there is any other. And tomorrow I shall start on right stimulation for a good complexion.

PENNY THOUGHTS

No man becomes a scholar who stops studying when the subject loses interest and when he becomes weary of it.

No man becomes a writer who abandons his ambition when his first stories are returned.

The sick and debilitated may succumb to the first fatigue, but a healthy man will gain in power and courage by straining himself to his limit and resting later.

There is, we are told, no royal road to the acquisition of endurance—only by enduring is it attained.

Perils of Childhood

"It must be all of twenty years ago that mother first gave me Syrup Pepsin

For those Fevers, Colds and Bowel Troubles of Childhood

How time flies. My good mother has gone to her rest, but I have faithfully relied upon her judgment and have given Syrup Pepsin to my two children since they were born. It is certainly a noble medicine and never fails of its purpose. I like to recommend it." (Name and address will be sent upon request.)

And in the Evening of Life

When age comes creeping on, with bowels relaxed, muscles weak, digestion poor and blood thinned, then is when constipation does its evil work in a night. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is so palatable, sets so well in the stomach, works so easily, so gently, so kindly with old folks as to accomplish its purpose without gripe, pain or other distress. For biliousness, sour stomach, coated tongue, feverishness, constipation, from infancy to old age Syrup Pepsin is recommended everywhere and sold by all druggists.

For a free trial bottle send name and address to Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Illinois.

"TOM AND DICK—THE TIRE BOYS"

ST. BRIGIDS HIGH WILL MEET URBANA TEAM HERE WEDNESDAY

Encouraged by confidence in their ability to play at the peak of form on the home floor in contrast to only fair showings on foreign courts, St. Brigids High School basketball players are re-entering the "win" column in the game with St. Marys High of Urbana, at Central High School gym Wednesday night. The game will start at 8:15 o'clock.

St. Brigids, staggering under a lopsided defeat meted out last week by St. Raphael High of Springfield, is strongly ambushed for the Wednesday contest, and hopeful of retaliating with a victory.

St. Marys is understood to have a flashy attack centered around an Italian, of extraordinary ability. Urbana also expects to send a number of rooters to Xenia to lend moral and vocal support to their team's efforts.

St. Brigids has won one game

SPORTSMEN PLAN TO ATTEND BANQUET OF FISH AND GAME BODY

Many sportsmen from Xenia and vicinity are planning to attend the annual banquet of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association at Washington C. H., Wednesday night, February 16. Arrangements are being made to care for approximately 1,500 sportsmen from surrounding counties.

The banquet has come to be recognized as one of the greatest events of its kind in Ohio and the annual affair draws sportsmen from a wide radius.

It will require 15,000 pieces of tableware to serve the big crowd and several of the finest baby beets obtainable in Fayette County have been purchased as the main article of food for the banqueters.

No after-dinner speaking is to be permitted this year. The program of entertainment is to consist of music, vaudeville specialties and various novelties, including a display by the Hudson Bay hunters and music by the Three Mountaineers.

Local sportsmen are aiding in the sale of tickets for the big feed.

THIRD DANCE WILL BE GIVEN TUESDAY

Third of the series of benefit dances being sponsored by the Xenia Reserve Baseball Club to help finance erection of a new grandstand at Washington Park for use during the approaching diamond season, will be given at the K. of P. hall Tuesday night from 8 to 12 o'clock.

Gram's orchestra, of Springfield, will furnish the music. The preceding dance was unusually successful and a large attendance is anticipated Tuesday, according to Jess Chambliss, manager of the Club.

Old-fashioned and modern dances will be featured during the evening.

and lost two so far this season and will atone in some measure for the two defeats and bring its percentage to the .500 mark by trimming Urbana. Local parochial school tossers seem more at home on the Central High gym floor than away from the city and this is taken into account in making the teams about equal favorites to win Wednesday. St. Brigids won its only game played at Xenia several weeks ago, defeating St. Joseph High of Springfield in a return game after losing the first tussle played at Springfield.

BOWLING

Arcade continued its belated drive for first place in the Xenia Bowling League at the same time strengthening its position in second place by making a clean sweep of the three-game series with McCurran Bros. Monday night. Jess Anderson led the attack on the maples with a 609 total while Harry Jordan was high for the losers. Box score:

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

WILBERFORCE U. OFFICIAL GIVEN CONFIDENCE VOTE

given a vote of confidence and assurance of continued support of his administration in a resolution adopted at the board meeting.

No findings for recovery were made in a recent report of an examination of the C. N. and I. Department conducted by E. Frank Brown, state examiner, although he charged that affairs in many instances were conducted in an "unbusiness-like manner."

The resolution follows: "The board wishes to express its appreciation to E. Frank Brown, state examiner, for his very thorough examination and investigation of the affairs of the combined normal and industrial department at Wilberforce University."

"In view of the fact that such examination and investigation did not show there was any illegal use of funds or abuse of authority by Superintendent R. C. Bundy, or any of its high officials."

"Be it resolved, that the board, in view of newspaper criticism of the conduct of the affairs of the C. N. and I. Department by Superintendent Bundy, find all charges to be false and unfair and without foundation."

"Be it further resolved that we, the board of trustees, extend to the superintendent a vote of confidence in his administration and assure him of continued support of his splendid management of the affairs of the department."

Board members attending the meeting were: Dr. J. L. Johnson, Columbus, chairman; Dr. J. S. Jackson, Cincinnati, secretary; Dr. B. F. McWilliams, Toledo, O.; Harry Smith, Cleveland; Charles Bundy, Cleveland, father of the superintendent; Miss Helen Walker, Cincinnati, and Bishop J. H. Jones.

Immediate installation of laundry machinery, costing $250, and expenditure of $350 for a drain for the swimming pool was also urged by the committee. The requested budget called for $120,000 for four new cottages.

These funds, the committee suggested, should be made available immediately so that plans may be prepared and work commenced as soon as weather permits.

Recapitulation of the budget by the committee shows that the original budget requests aggregated $992,005 and but $760,235 was allowed by the state finance department, a cut of $231,610.

The committee appointed by Governor Donahey to make a survey of the Home and prepare and report plans to meet the anticipated needs, met for the first time December 10, 1926, and was composed as follows: Judge E. S. Matthias, Columbus, chairman, representing Spanish-American War veterans; Lieut. Col. Milton D. Campbell, Cincinnati, representing the American Legion;

Captain Herbert R. Mooney, Woodfield, state commander of the American Legion; Ralph H. Carroll, Cleveland, state commander of the Spanish-American War veterans; Lieut. Col. Rell G. Allen, Washington, C. H., representing the Board of Trustees of the Home, and Adjutant Frank D. Henderson, representing the governor.

Immediately after organizing, the committee called upon various government agencies of the state to complete reports on the Home, some of which had been in progress since these departments had first come in contact with the Home, and some at the behest of the Child Welfare Committee of La Societe des 40 Hommes at 8 Chevaux since the sixth annual promenade at Elyria, O., September 12 and 13, 1926.

Reports made by the Spanish-American War veterans organization, the American Legion and outstanding state and fraternal organizations interested in obtaining needed improvements at the Home furnished the basis for the survey.

"An inspection will readily convince the most casual observer," the report declares, "that the facilities provided are entirely inadequate to properly maintain and rear children now in the Home."

The Home, "due to long neglect, the report continues, is 'an inferior' to similar institutions maintained by other states and by fraternal orders. Recommendations of the committee under the proper heads are presented as follows:

Personal service (salaries), $34,290; wages $11,250; supplies (medical), $1,800; educational, $1,800; materials (building), $7,500; general plant, $37,500; equipment (household), $15,000; medical and surgical, $2,250; live stock, $3,000; educational, $6,000; recreational, $3,750; contract and open order service (traveling expense), $7,500; additions and betterments (remodeling cottages, $73,000; two boys' and two girls' cottages, $75,000; repair school buildings, $4,800; ready appropriated by legislature; capital equipment, $4,000.

The report was registered in Governor Donahey's fourth message to the present Ohio Legislature and the message was under consideration Tuesday by the solons.

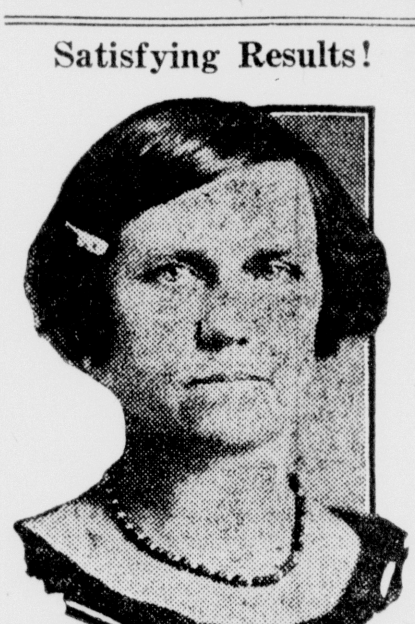

THUG'S FIELD DAY

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8.—Thugs made it a field day here Monday and last night slugged William Ruh, barber at the Virginia House as he went into the basement. The blow failed to knock Ruh unconscious and the assailant fled without loot. Four earlier hold-ups during the day netted robbers $300.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

"WHAT'S GOING TO BE NEXT?"

People are beginning to ask: What will come after the flapper? After the flapper will come ten men!

This is the age of inventions—some of them of the devil! The radio is either in your home or attached to your car so that you can be an indoor or an outdoor sport.

This is a free and easy age, the drinks are free and the rest is easy. It is the general belief that we are going from the "ante" to the "anti" stage.

After the age of forty-five everyone is strong for reform. Not being able to dodge traffic themselves doing a lot of "waiving!"

This country had a good start—but it's all been downhill. Our forefathers would look like eight at the present time!

The last fun that the Pilgrims had was when they landed. But with a hard winter before you and Indians after you what chance was there to throw a party? Who could get up a good bridge game with the Indians bidding five clubs and using them?

Well, the day may come when dancing will be going just a step too far. It used to be a crime to break the Sabbath; now it's a crime to break a date!

AFTER THE FLAPPER

they want it slowed down. They may have had a good time in their youth, but they want the children to keep quiet so they can get some sleep.

Therefore, it is only natural that the parents of tomorrow should make their children toe the mark. Without being well heeled, either! Now that it's all right to commit everything but yourself, it isn't as much fun.

The time may come when everybody will be sneaking a smoke behind the barn and before the charades. But if other things are kept as well as prohibition they'll all spoil. The long arm of the law is

After all this freedom it will be hard to go back to the straight and narrow path unless the car is a good hill climber. The primrose path may be full of pitfalls, but most people carry their own traps, anyway.

If we must go back to the good old days we might save out a few modern nights! If you don't think a lot of "re-forming" has been done already, take a look at the women who have been reducing!

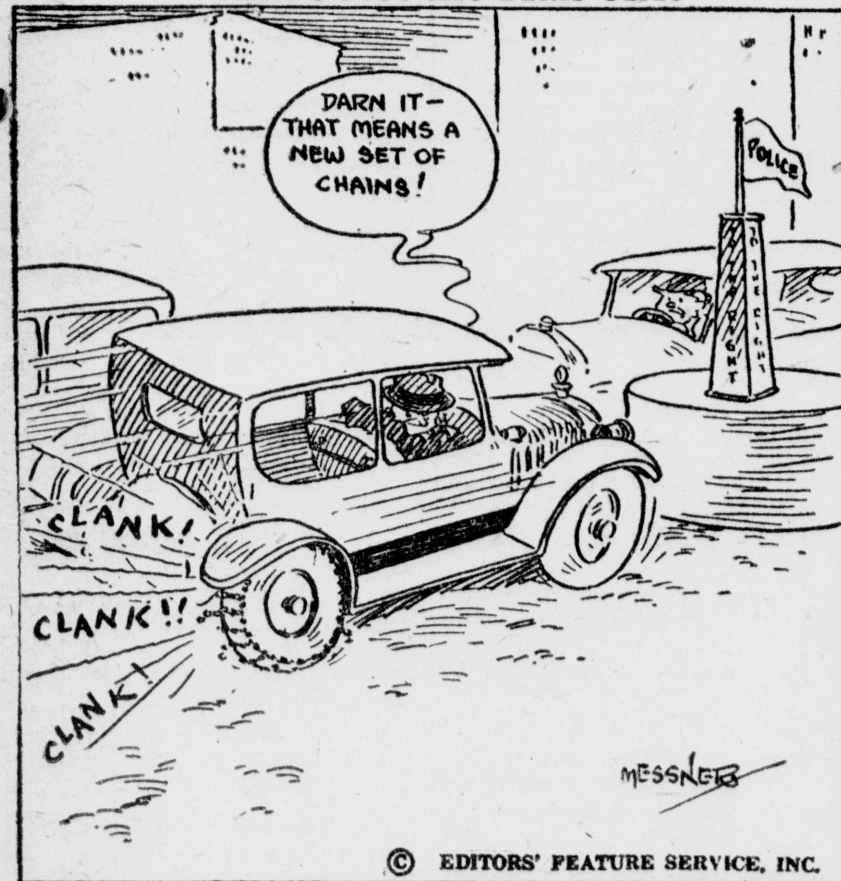

We're willing to bet that when it comes to "what's going to be next" the blue laws are going to see red!

QUESTION OF GROSS IMMORALITY TAKEN TO COURT BY DOCTOR

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8.—Is the charge of "gross immorality" restricted to violations of the ten commandments?

This query is raised in a suit filed here today in the state supreme court on behalf of Dr. William Seltz, Scioto County.

Seltz seeks restoration of his license to practice medicine. The license was revoked by the state medical board on the ground that Seltz had been convicted of a felony because he was sentenced to six months imprisonment in the Hamilton County jail for alleged violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

In his petition, in which he asks that the medical board be ordered to restore his license, Seltz contended that he was not guilty of committing a felony nor of gross immorality. His conviction, he asserted, was based upon the perjured testimony of a former federal narcotic inspector who had served a prison sentence.

Before a person can be guilty of a felony, Seltz contended, he or she must be sentenced to not less than one year's imprisonment.

Insisting that the charge of gross immorality could be found only upon allegations of violating the ten commandments, as found in the Bible, Seltz argued that violation of a statute, such as the federal anti-narcotic act, did not constitute gross immorality. He cited a number of court decisions in support of his contention.

THE INCOME TAX INSIDE OUT

By FRED R. RIPLEY

Sixth Article of a Series.

The compensation which an individual receives for personal services is taxable income, regardless of the form in which it is paid. Cash, the value of board, living quarters (unless such quarters are provided for the convenience of the employer) stock or other property or privileges received as compensation are taxable.

Commissions paid salesmen, compensation for services on the basis of a percentage of profits, commissions on insurance premiums, tips, pay of persons in the military or naval forces of the United States, retired pay of federal or other officers and contributions received by clergymen for services rendered, are considered income to the recipients.

Stock received for services should be included in taxable income at its fair market value. If the services were rendered at a stipulated price, for example, $5-000, and the employee agrees to take part of his salary, for example, $2,000, in stock of the par value of $2,000, the sum would be presumed to be the fair market value of the stock in lieu of other evidence showing a different value. The corporation and the employee should come to an agreement as to the value of the stock and one should deduct it as an expense and the other report it as an income.

Salaries of state, city and county employees are exempt from taxation, but those of federal employees are taxable. Salaries received by United States citizens residing in a foreign country, for services performed in the foreign country, are exempt.

Notes received in payment for services rendered constitute taxable income to the amount of their fair market value.

Payments received as rentals constitute taxable income whether received in cash or in the equivalent of cash. Taxes paid by a tenant to or for a landlord for business property are additional rent and constitute a deductible to the tenant and taxable income to the landlord, the amount of tax being deductible by the latter.

When buildings are erected or improvements made by a tenant pursuant to an agreement with the landlord, and such buildings or improvements are not subject to removal by the tenant, the result is income to the landlord, either at the time when the building or improvements are completed, or spread over the life of the lease, such income to be computed ac-ording to methods prescribed in the regulations. Royalties received for the use of natural deposits, such as mines, oil and gas wells, are income. Against this income a deduction may be made for depletion of the deposits.

Royalties received for the use of a patent or copyright are likewise income, against which a deduction may be taken for depreciation of the patent or copyright.

All interest received or accrued (except expressly exempt interest) is taxable income. Bond coupons are ordinarily income for the year in which they have matured and are taxable, even though they are not cashed in such year. Interest credited on savings bank deposits, even though the bank nominally has a rule, seldom or never enforced, that it may require so many days' notice before withdrawals are permitted, is income to the depositor when credited.

CAESARCREEK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The girls' basketball team won its fifth game Friday night at the O. S. and S. O. Home by a score of 11 to 6. This makes five wins in six starts for the girls.

The Caesarcreek boys, with some of their substitutes in the line-up lost to the Home boys by a score of 40 to 10.

Friday night, February 11, the Beaver Creek High School boys and girls teams came to Caesarcreek for two games. These will be the last home games of the season. Fuller of Xenia will officiate at both games. First game called at 7:45. Two good games are assured.

The pupils placed upon the honor roll for the month of January were: seniors, Clarence Ary, Forrest Ellis, Elden Heinz, Donald St. John, Robert St. John, Mildred Carle, Aletha Conklin, Grace Liming, Wilmina Peterson; juniors, Elmer Colvin, Lucille Paulkner, Zora Jones, Rowena McKay; sophomores, Thelma Carle, Irene Peterson, Virginia St. John, Mary Wilson; freshmen, Helen Carle, Helen Conklin, Helen Ray.

MILLION-DOLLAR CHURCH IDLE

St. Anne's church, in Columbia, virtually deserted California mining town, is one of richest church properties in world, but it has only a handful of worshippers. It was built on land now estimated to contain $1,000,000 worth of gold. Property around it was mined; but the pastor refused to allow the edifice to be disturbed.

The Xenia Hatcheries Co. An Example of Reward That Comes to Vision and Enterprise.

contiguous counties; for it provides a waiting market for eggs at premium price of 12 cents per dozen.

It is predicted that poultry raisers in the field will build up their flocks and that many more will be persuaded to enter the field for the advantage gained in having a hatchery market.

On a basis of 500,000 eggs hatched this season there will at the premium price of one cent per egg be a gain to local breeders for the season, of $5,000 over the normal price.

The company this year will expend around $40,000.00 for eggs and will sell chickens to a value of about $75,000.

The company's prompt day and night expert service to poultry breeders is promoting its popularity. Gradually this service is being extended into Clinton and Fayette Counties.

The eggs that came in last week—13,445—were practically all from Greene County.

This is Manager Creamer's eleventh year as a hatchery operator. The company has some 300 alliances through its membership in the International Baby Chick Association and the Ohio Baby Chick Association. It is also a charter member of the U. S. Egg Society.

In the hatchery room, where an even temperature is maintained with careful attention to humidity Dana Lynch is on duty through the day and Charles Redman at night. Mrs. Creamer is book-keeper and Roger Hill is office assistant.

The company is getting inquiries or orders from a wide area. Some of the recent communications are from Kensington, O., Auburn, N. Y., Winnipic, Canada, Richmond, Va., Annapolis, Md., West Newton, Pa., Madison, Conn., Portland, Ind., Willardale, Ont., Wells, Mich., and many other points.

For the season the company will have fourteen different breeds of chickens.

The company's service the last season has included the blood testing of more than 20,000 fowls for the elimination of infected bacillary white diarrhea.

As a result of the operation of the hatchery here five High School boys—Ralph Harper, Kenneth Frost, Herbert Mallow, Wilfred Wheeler and Robert Butts—have each taken 500 chicks from the hatchery for development into Easter broilers. This is a part of their practical school work in agriculture.

The Xenia Hatcheries Co., a partnership enterprise owned and operated by Leland Creamer, Xenia, and Wm. Russell Steel, of Chillicothe, is stimulating the raising of chickens in Greene and adjoining counties, advertising Xenia far and wide, bringing money to town and adding to the growth and prosperity of the city.

A hatchery requires twenty-one days. The company plant is equipped with four large incubators, each with a capacity of 10,368 eggs.

The first hatch of 4,700 eggs was taken off Tuesday. Varieties included were Rhode Island Reds, Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes, White Leghorns, Buff Rocks and Buff Orpingtons.

For the remainder of the season a hatch will be taken off Monday. The company has 361 flocks of pure bred chickens to draw upon for eggs. The hatchery out-put for Jan. 25 and Jan. 31 has been sold.

Under the aggressive management of Leland Creamer, who is a poultry expert and authority of extensive experience, the company promises to grow; for possibilities of sale are almost unbounded, the limit to an extent being fixed by the number of eggs obtainable.

The company will prove a boon to poultry raisers of Greene and contiguous counties; for it provides a waiting market for eggs at premium price of 12 cents per dozen.

This is Manager Creamer's eleventh year as a hatchery operator. The company has some 300 alliances through its membership in the International Baby Chick Association and the Ohio Baby Chick Association. It is also a charter member of the U. S. Egg Society.

In the hatchery room, where an even temperature is maintained with careful attention to humidity Dana Lynch is on duty through the day and Charles Redman at night. Mrs. Creamer is book-keeper and Roger Hill is office assistant.

The company is getting inquiries or orders from a wide area. Some of the recent communications are from Kensington, O., Auburn, N. Y., Winnipic, Canada, Richmond, Va., Annapolis, Md., West Newton, Pa., Madison, Conn., Portland, Ind., Willardale, Ont., Wells, Mich., and many other points.

For the season the company will have fourteen different breeds of chickens.

The company's service the last season has included the blood testing of more than 20,000 fowls for the elimination of infected bacillary white diarrhea.

As a result of the operation of the hatchery here five High School boys—Ralph Harper, Kenneth Frost, Herbert Mallow, Wilfred Wheeler and Robert Butts—have each taken 500 chicks from the hatchery for development into Easter broilers. This is a part of their practical school work in agriculture.

The Xenia Hatcheries Co., a partnership enterprise owned and operated by Leland Creamer, Xenia, and Wm. Russell Steel, of Chillicothe, is stimulating the raising of chickens in Greene and adjoining counties, advertising Xenia far and wide, bringing money to town and adding to the growth and prosperity of the city.

A hatchery requires twenty-one days. The company plant is equipped with four large incubators, each with a capacity of 10,368 eggs.

The first hatch of 4,700 eggs was taken off Tuesday. Varieties included were Rhode Island Reds, Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes, White Leghorns, Buff Rocks and Buff Orpingtons.

For the remainder of the season a hatch will be taken off Monday. The company has 361 flocks of pure bred chickens to draw upon for eggs. The hatchery out-put for Jan. 25 and Jan. 31 has been sold.

Under the aggressive management of Leland Creamer, who is a poultry expert and authority of extensive experience, the company promises to grow; for possibilities of sale are almost unbounded, the limit to an extent being fixed by the number of eggs obtainable.

The company will prove a boon to poultry raisers of Greene and contiguous counties; for it provides a waiting market for eggs at premium price of 12 cents per dozen.

It is predicted that poultry raisers in the field will build up their flocks and that many more will be persuaded to enter the field for the advantage gained in having a hatchery market.

On a basis of 500,000 eggs hatched this season there will at the premium price of one cent per egg be a gain to local breeders for the season, of $5,000 over the normal price.

The company this year will expend around $40,000.00 for eggs and will sell chickens to a value of about $75,000.

The company's prompt day and night expert service to poultry breeders is promoting its popularity. Gradually this service is being extended into Clinton and Fayette Counties.

The eggs that came in last week—13,445—were practically all from Greene County.
